Term three, week four

Dear Parents and Caregivers,

Thank you to those who came and supported us on the marae visit to Pakowai on Friday. It was great to have everyone there.

THIS WEEK'S AWARDS:

Congratulations to Jack Cheetham and Sophia Green who received our VALUES certificates for RESILIENCY this week. Jack received his award for becoming a resilient, tenacious learner. Sophia received her award for always bouncing back from problems and doing so with a smiley face and a friendly gesture.

SCHOOL VALUE: the value at the heart of our learning community this week remains RESILIENCE.

CONGRATULATIONS also to George Candy who received a classroom award for his drive and determination in both technology and skipping. Georgia Roberts for showing such flair and creativity in technology.

EOTC:

This week Friday 18th August, the senior room will be attending a Capital E performance, 'An Awfully Big Adventure'. An Awfully Big Adventure's national tour is timed to coincide with the hundred year anniversary since the outbreak of World War 1, and offers an ideal way to engage with history. It is a work that explores the complexity of the times, the conduct of the war and the heroes and its impact on New Zealanders, in an accessible way for students.

SCHOOL NEWS:

In the last week of the term we will be having a wearable arts evening. The children are very busy creating their designs, play group have been invited to participate, and we would like to extend the invitation to our whānau. So if you feel like getting creative there will be a section for adults. The theme is recycled, reused, repurposed. Be sure to let us know well before the event if you are planning on joining in.
